Honorable Emory Melton

which requires substantial specialized education, judgment and skill based on knowledge and application of principles derived from the biological, physical, social and nursing sciences, including, but not limited to:

(c) The administration of medications and treatments as prescribed by a person licensed in this state to prescribe such medications and treatments; . . ."

We conclude that the administration of intravenous fluid falls within the scope of the foregoing function.

Practical nursing is defined as:

"(4) . . . the performance for compensation of selected acts for the promotion of health and in the care of persons who are ill, injured, or experiencing alterations in normal health processes. Such performance requires substantial specialized skill, judgment and knowledge. All such nursing care shall be given under the direction of a person licensed in this state to prescribe medications and treatments or under the direction of a registered professional nurse;"

We also observe that Section 2(3) lists several specific functions, in addition to that above quoted, which constitute the practice of professional nursing.

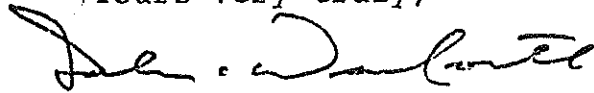

It is our view that where the General Assembly has chosen to define professional nursing in terms of particular duties, which duties are deemed to require scientific skill and knowledge, a distinction must be drawn between those duties and others which may be permitted the practical nurse.

In addition, we take note of the fact that the administration of intravenous fluids requires a knowledge of the biological sciences which would enable the nurse to determine the location of veins in the patient's body and properly insert the apparatus which transmits the fluid.

Honorable Emory Melton

We thus believe that the requirement for such specialized knowledge falls squarely within the above-quoted definition of the registered professional nurse and is not permitted to a practical nurse whose training results in "substantial specialized skill, judgment and knowledge" but is not defined in terms of specific scientific principles.

Yours very truly,

DISCIPLINARY PROBLEMS CONSIDERED BY BOARD SINCE MAY

At the May, July and October, 1976, meetings, the Board also considered:

1. Six (6) cases involving applicants who had arrest records prior to granting permission to write the State Board Test Pool Examination for professional nurse licensure; and six (6) practical nurse applications.
2. Six (6) complaints received by the Board against registered professional nurses and seven (7) licensed practical nurses.
3. The Board referred thirteen (13) cases to the Administrative Hearing Commission (hearings pending).
4. The Board denied one (1) applicant for professional nurse licensure and six (6) applicants for practical nurse licensure via reciprocity (most did not meet Missouri's minimum educational requirements).

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICIAL OPINION

The Board of Nursing constantly receives inquiries as to the Attorney General's Official Opinion regarding licensed practical nurses administering fluids intravenously; therefore, we are including it for your information on the following three pages.

OPINION LETTER NO. 84

Honorable Emory Melton
State Senator, District 29
201 West Ninth Street
Cassville, Missouri 65625

Dear Senator Melton:

This is in response to your request for an official opinion of this office on the following question:

" . . . is a licensed practical nurse now authorized by law to administer fluids intravenously on the order of a physician?"

You have noted in your request that Senate Bill No. 108, 78th General Assembly, has supplanted Chapter 335, RSMo 1969, and that under the previous law governing the practice of nursing this office has issued Opinion Letter No. 25, Reardon, 1963 (attached hereto), answering substantially the same question in the negative.

One issue, therefore, is whether Senate Bill No. 108 has created new definitions of the practices of registered professional nursing and licensed practical nursing so as to justify the opposite conclusion at this time.

The statutory definitions of the nursing professions regulated by Senate Bill No. 108 do not specifically delegate the function in question to the practical nurse; therefore, there is no explicit directive from the General Assembly which would require the alteration of our earlier opinion.

Moreover, Section 2 of Senate Bill No. 108 contains the following pertinent language:

"(3) 'Professional nursing' is the performance for compensation of any act

REPLY TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH EDUCATION AND WELFARE

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare's written report entitled, A Proposal for Credentialing Health Manpower, in reduced form was mailed to all health care providers currently licensed in Missouri, August 6, 1976.

The Board responded to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare by directing the following in a letter to Dr. David Matthews, Secretary of H.E.W.

"The Missouri State Board of Nursing wishes to thank you for allowing the nursing profession to comment and have the opportunity for input on the proposal for credentialing health manpower.

The Board reviewed the report that was prepared by the Sub-Committee on Health Manpower Credentialing of the Public Health Service Health Manpower Coordinating Committee and took a position of opposition to the proposal.

The Board is concerned that this type of credentialing violates the sovereign right of individual states in the safeguarding of the health and welfare of their own citizens.

The Board also believes that only the professions with expertise in their own profession are cognizant of the qualifications necessary for continued competency in that particular profession. The scope and functions of the various Health Professions, although allied, are unique in their roles of providing health care.

The Board takes exception to the fact that while some professions may be lax in disciplinary procedures this Board investigates our regulants on a continual basis, and does pursue proper disciplinary action through the Administrative Hearing procedure and courts of Missouri.

The Board strenuously objects to the fact that there were no nurses on the HEW sub-committee, particularly in view of the fact that nursing represents the largest number of total health care providers."

RESOLUTION ON USE OF STATE BOARD SCORES

The Council of State Boards of Nursing at its June, 1976, meeting, passed a resolution which discourages the use of state board examination scores; 1) by educational programs as a criteria for admission, or 2) by employers as a criteria for employment.

Resolution: Use of State Board Scores

WHEREAS, the State Board Test Pool Examinations (RNL and PNL) are one means of determining minimum competency for beginning practice; and

WHEREAS, the scores achieved on the examination are intended to determine only the pass or fail status of the applicant for licensure in a particular jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, some educational institutions and agencies use the scores attained on the state board examinations (RNL and PNL) to determine admissibility into various types of educational programs or employment positions; and

WHEREAS, the use of the State Board Test Pool Examination scores for such purposes is inappropriate and in conflict with the original purpose of the scores;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of State Boards of Nursing discourage the use of state board examination scores by educational programs as a criteria for admission into educational programs or by employers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of State Boards of Nursing re-emphasize the primary purpose of the scores of the State Board Test Pool Examination to be solely the determination for eligibility for licensure in a particular jurisdiction; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of State Boards of Nursing provide a copy of this Resolution to other structural units within the American Nurses' Association including the Commission on Education, Commission on Nursing Services, Commission on Economic and General Welfare, and the Congress for Nursing Practice, and to the various nursing education councils of the National League for Nursing; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that individual state boards of nursing provide a copy of this Resolution to the various educational institutions and employers of nursing within the respective jurisdiction.

The members of the Missouri State Board of Nursing rendered the decision to adopt the resolution at their June 29, 1976, meeting. The Board determined that the Resolution may be distributed to the various educational institutions and published in this Newsletter for review by employers of nursing.
